SCRAPED TOBACCO PLANT BED.

Montgomery County (Tenn.) Planter Victim of Night Rlders.

Nashville, Tenn., April 19.—Unknown parties visited the farm of John Morrow, in Montgomery county, Tennessee, and scraped his tobacco plant bed, which amounted to 1,000 square yards. After rumpaging the bed the men replaced the canvass, thus concealing their work for several days.

The plant beds of several other planters in the same neighborhood have recently been scraped.

Beet Sugar.
The beet sugar industry is growing in California. Eleven factories consume 9,700 tons of beets in a year. Alkaline soil seems peculiarly adapted to their growth, as it has been found that the nits and solids in the ground are collected in the tops and after a few crops the soil is so enriched as to grow anything.
This beet grows to a great size, some specimens weighing as much as fifty pounds. One factory expects to produce 20,000,000 pounds of sugar this year. The tops are sold off close to the ground and are fed to cattle with profit. The by-product from the molasses is alcohol.

Elly's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or sniffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a top to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

FIRE ENTRAPS WORKING GIRLS

Panic, However Does Not Result in Any Injured.

Girls Bravely Made Their Way Down Fire Escapes—150 On Upper Floor When Fire Started.

ELEVATOR MAN IS THE HERO

New York, April 19.—Fire in the Empire building at Broadway and Bleeker street entrapped 125 girls working on one of the upper floors.
All were rescued, however, the elevator man in the building running the car repeatedly through the smoke, and flames and carrying the young women down, others feeling down the fire escapes, reaching the street unharmed. The fire was quickly extinguished and did little damage.

The fire started in a stock of feathers on the first floor and was not detected at once.
On the tenth floor, the top, 150 girls were at work. The dense smoke carried quickly up the elevator shaft, which was open, and at the bottom of which was Tony Sarino, the elevator boy, and his car. He knew nothing of the fire until aroused by the screams from the girls who were imprisoned by the smoke, which filled the elevator shaft and the stairs.
Sarino shot his car through the smoke to the top of the shaft and bravely made more than a half dozen trips to the street, bringing many of the girls to safety. Others of the girls were brave enough to descend by the fire escapes.

Broadway was quickly jammed by a dense crowd that watched the girls come down the fire escapes and later saw the girls whom Sarino had rescued surround him, kissing and hugging him for saving them.
The firemen made short work of the blaze. They believed it was started by a lighted cigarette being thrown into a lot of feathers.

Corrected Too Late.

A well known Brooklyn physician was examining a class of nurses who had served their appointed time in the hospital. The candidates filed past him, and to each he addressed a question calculated to show the nurse's efficiency. In one of the questions he described the condition of a patient and asked the nurse how much morphine, in her opinion, should be administered to the sufferer.

"Eight grains," promptly replied the nurse.
The doctor made no comment, and she passed on. When her turn came again she appeared greatly confused, and said to the examiner: "Doctor, I wish to correct the answer I made last time. I meant to say that one-eighth of a grain should be given to the patient."

"Too late," remarked Dr. Matheson, without looking up from his question paper. "The man's dead."

Let Him Have It.

When one of Uncle Sam's sailors, a man named Gordon, formerly serving on one of our vessels in a West Indian squadron, was taken to the Naval hospital in Washington he described with gruesome vividness to his companions there his adventure with a shark off one of the islands in the West Indies.

"I had just fell over the bulwarks," said the able seaman, "when along came a big shark and grabs me by the leg."

"What did you do then, matey?" asked one of the patients.

"I never disputes none with sharks," said the sailor. "I let him have the leg." —Harper's Weekly.

"What's the matter? Has your husband ceased to love you?"

"No, but he's ceased to be scared when I have hysterics." —

ACRES OF POWDER FILLER DISCOVERED IN NORTHWEST.

Spokane, Wash.—Development of 40 acres of randsanite earth near Blue Creek, Stevens county, Washington, north of Spokane, where experts say are deposits which will yield more than 2,000,000 tons of this rare substance, used as a filler for high explosives, in the first step in the fight to be waged in the Pacific northwest against the powder trust.

Dr. J. M. Gooding, of Spokane, who, with his associates in this city and Wallace, Idaho, owns the land where the randsanite was discovered by accident a short time ago, declares this is the only known body in existence.

Chemists report that it is a perfect absorbent and say it will make blast-ings and gun powder much safer and cheaper than the standard brands. Experiments have been made with randsanite and they are satisfied. This substance is the best of chert, and is the best of the world.

A LIBERAL OFFER.
W. B. McPherson guarantees to Cure Dyspepsia—If He Fails the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the pople of Paducah that indigestion and dyspepsia is curable and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will effect the cure, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give complete satisfaction to anyone giving it a trial.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth, Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and their agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specifics of acute indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is manufactured by a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and exerts a tonic influence upon all the glands which supply all the other elements necessary to proper assimilation and digestion.

The carminatives and properties which promptly relieve the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food.

The perfect combination of these ingredients make a remedy absolutely incomparable and invaluable for the complete cure of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so positively certain of this that we sell Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee that they will either cure you or cost you nothing.—Three sizes, 25c, 45c and 85c—W. B. McPherson, Paducah.

Anxiety Ill-Timed.

Howard Bullis, the noted mining engineer, told a good story to the Tech. men recently illustrating the "art" of salting a diamond mine.

The story was told of a man in South Africa who while walking one day over his property suggested that they may some of the soil.

In the search that ensued eight rough diamonds were found and offers began to fly through the air at a rapid rate for the land, when the host's wife called out to her husband, "Why, John, where are the other two?" The sequel of the story was left to the imagination.—Hos-

London's Doubtful Growth.

While the statistics of New York's growth continue to startle the world, London has stopped growing.
Within the last seven years the an-school has declined about 2 per cent and the number of paupers in the city has increased 15 per cent. In the meantime the assessed valuation has advanced only 17 per cent, while the debt has increased 110 per

ARE FIGHTING THEATRE TRUST

Anderson-Ziegler Co. Buys Real Estate.

Has Joined Shuberts—In Future Will Oppose the Klaw and Erlanger Combination—Open Door.

IS EXPECTED TO WIN OUT.

Cincinnati, April 19.—There was placed on record in the court house today a lease from Louis J. Hanck and Mrs. Emily Helme to the Anderson-Ziegler Theater company for the property immediately adjoining the Columbia theater, with privilege of purchase at $110,000. This is the second piece of property the Anderson-Ziegler company has acquired on Walnut street within the past few weeks.

Today the Anderson-Ziegler company announced their intention of organizing a subsidiary company for the purpose of erecting a number of 5 and 10 cent theaters in several cities in cooperation with the Western Vaudeville Managers' association of Chicago, which association at a meeting last week concluded to enter actively into that branch of the business.

There will be another meeting of these allied interests in Chicago next week.

The Anderson-Ziegler company is associated with the Shuberts in the fight with the Klaw and Erlanger combination.

"We will win in the 'open door' policy in our fight against the Klaw and Erlanger combine," said H. M.
Ziegler to an Associated Press representative today. "The Shuberts now have secured a house in Denver, one in Salt Lake, one in Sacramento and one in Los Angeles. Besides other Pacific coast houses they have formerly controlled. They have one in Omaha. Now they will not be required to make a single jump from the Missouri river to the Pacific coast."

The Anderson-Ziegler company itself controls three houses in Cincinnati, two in Indianapolis, two in Louisville and is interested in the Majestic, the Haymarket and the Olympic in Chicago.

WALLERSTEINS

WIN FROM INVINCIBLES IN SUN-DAY GAME.

First Contest on Diamond Results in Score of Nine to Four.

In a well played baseball game

yesterday afternoon the Wallerstein team won from the Invincibles by the score of 9 to 4. Both teams played good ball, but the Wallerstein team led in hitting as eleven safe drives were secured to four hits for the In-vincibles. The features of the game was a home run drive of R. Mercer while G. Yopp's base stealing was good. He stole six bases. The batteries were: Wallerstein—Morthland and H. Mercer; Invincibles—Switzer and Cathey.

The Wallerstein baseball team will be ready for games with all teams of its class. The team has some good players, and will put up a good argument. The line-up is: H. Mercer, C; E. Elliott, p; G. Yopp, 1b; O. Hoffman, 2b; H. Mercer, 3b; G. Katter-

Anty Drudge's Cure for the Blues.

Anty Drudge—"Won't you come home to tea with me, children?"

John—"Come on, Sally, you have had the blues all day.
A little fresh air will do you good."

Mrs. Hardway—"No. I have to get up early to-morrow and get at the washing, so I want to get to bed early to-night."

Anty Drudge—"Of all silly creatures! I suppose you have been thinking about your washing all day. No wonder you are blue. Now just go and put your things on right away. When you get down to my house I will give you a few cakes of Fels-Naptha and your blues and blue Mondays will vanish forever, and John's only day home will be more pleasant in the future."

Isn't a short, smooth road better than a roundabout, rocky one?

Isn't that the road you would take by preference?

Well, the shorter, easier, smoother road in washing clothes is the Fels-Naptha way.

No rocks in your path; no boiling, hot fires, steaming suds, or hard rubbing.

Fels-Naptha banishes the disagreeable part of washing, takes out the backache, cuts the time to half, and makes the clothes cleaner and whiter than it is possible by the old-fashioned way.

Follow the simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

ENGLISH WOMEN TO BE TAUGHT LOVING

A "School of Love" is London's latest. No correspondence system has been inaugurated, but it will come.

The beautiful old oak-paneled Fortune Playhouse in Brewer street is to become a School of Love, and Madame de Perrot, a fascinating French woman, is going to give her English sisters weekly lectures on the art of love-making all through the London season.

Rank and fashion sat at the feet of Madame de Perrot, who has eloquence and the art of the election-elevator at her command, at the Ritz Hotel, last season, when she lectured in French, but English is to be the language spoken at the Fortune Playhouse.

"So many brilliant and clever women in England seem to lack the charm of womanhood, and I want to tell them that the qualities of the heart have been uppermost in the greatest and most brilliant women of all times," explained Madame de Perrot.
"Intellect, talent, accomplishments, wit are no barrier to charm, and to the power of loving and being loved."

"This is surely where the suffragettes make a mistake. They do not cultivate charm. The other day at the British Museum a young lady knocked into me as she passed. 'Pardon me,' I said to her, 'but may I ask a question? Are you a suffragette?' 'Why, yes,' she said; 'how did you know? Are you one?' 'Because you have such manly manners, mademoiselle,' I said.

"English women have had no opportunity of hearing some of the great French love stories. There is no good translation, for instance, of the love letters of Heloise and Abeland, which are in Latin. What there is in but the shadow of the real Heloise. Later I will tell the love stories of the women of the French Revolution, a fascinating record."

it soon cures Burns, Scalds, Old Sores, Lady performers positively not permitted to appear in TIGHTS unless their act demands it, such as gymnastic acts. Nothing suggestive or vulgar allowed.

The Star and Kozy theaters prove a boon to shoppers and are the shoppers' favorite, as they are situated right down in the business section, where ladies can drop in and stay as long as they wish, rest themselves and children and keep cool.

As to the health of our patrons the Star and Kozy theaters are scrubbed out thoroughly every Monday morning, and daily both houses are sprayed with one of the most powerful disinfectants known. Killing all insects and microbes.

Both houses are equipped with sanitary chairs, all wood, that they may be thoroughly cleaned of all collections of any nature.

SALOON FIRE

CAUSES DAMAGE OVER MEXICAN FOURTH AND KENTUCKY.

Councilman McCarthy Kicks Over Lamp, Accidentally, and Causes Blaze.

Damage to the extent of about $800 was done Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock on the second floor of the Mexico saloon, Fourth street and Kentucky avenue. The fire originated in the kitchen above the saloon, and when the flames broke out the entire rear of the attic was burning. A dense smoke made the fire hard to battle, but the firemen under the direction of Chief Wood, smothered the fire.

The saloon below was damaged by water, as was the plumbing shop of Ed D. Hannan. Smoke slightly damaged the wall paper store of Kelly & Pimbaugh. The front of the second floor is divided into two rooms, but they were not damaged except by the smoke. No one was asleep in the room, or the chances were he would have been overcome with the smoke. While fighting the fire the firemen were nearly suffocated by the smoke.

The fire was discovered when the blaze broke out the windows. Hose company No. 1 and truck company, No. 1, responded, and got the blaze under control, before the arrival of hose company, No. 4, and truck company, No. 2, which answered the second alarm. The building is the property of Dr. Frank Boyd, and the loss is covered by insurance.

Fireman Fred Muenzler carried one nozzle and he was burned about the neck and face, but his injuries are not serious, and he continued on duty.

Rickety Over Lamp.

While asleep Councilman J. K. P. McCarthy knocked over a lamp at his residence, 1519 Broad street, and the lamp exploded. The bed clothing caught fire, but Mr. McCarthy left the bed before he was burned. The loss will amount to about $50. Fire companies, Nos. 2 and 4, answered the alarm.

Citizenship in heaven will exempt you from either taxes or service here.

HENRY DIEHL SR.

PASSES AWAY OF KIDNEY TROUBLE AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

After a week's serious illness, Mr. Henry Diehl, Sr., 74 years old, died Saturday night at 6:40 o'clock at his home, 312 South Third street, of kidney trouble. His death was expected. Since Friday he was in a critical condition. Although he had been in feeble health for several months he was not compelled to take to his bed until last week. About eighteen months ago he slipped, and broke his leg, and never regained his normal health.

Mr. Diehl was a substantial citizen, and was one of the pioneer shoe dealers in the city. He was born in Hesse, Germany, but removed to the United States in 1862. After a few years he came to Paducah and located, and he purchased the business of Matthew Lehrer. He and his son have conducted the business without a change in the firm's name. Mr. Diehl was a modest man, but had many friends.

Two children, Mrs. Sherman Phillips, and Henry Diehl, Jr., both of Paducah, survive Mr. Diehl. Mr. John Lehrer, who was associated in business with Mr. Diehl, and Mrs. Louis Petter, were step-children.

The funeral took place this afternoon at the German Lutheran church, of which Mr. Diehl was a consistent member. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery. The Rev. William Grother conducted the service.

Honorary pall bearers are: H. Manmon, Sr., Frank Kirchoff, Sr., Don Giffert, Henry Gockel, Sr., Peter Hank and Leopold Petter.

Active pall-bearers are: Henry Rung, Fred Kreutzer, Augustus Rath, Ed Thurman, Henry Kirchoff and William Dunbar.

Mrs. Cora Purdue.
Mrs. Cora Purdue, 33 years old, died Saturday night at 10 o'clock at her home on South Thirteenth street, after a long illness with tuberculosis. She was a popular matron with many friends. Besides her husband, Joseph Purdue, two children, Liddle and Leroy are left. Five brothers survive. She was an active member of the North Twelfth Street Baptist church, and her funeral took place yesterday afternoon at the church with burial in Oak Grove cemetery. The Rev. J. R. Clark conducted the Daily Thought.

Taking a bypath to avoid duty we are sure to meet our deserts.

Nashville students were suspended from school for attending a circus.

How much better it would have been to suspend school during the circus.

Chattanooga is demanding a commission government.

"Young Turks," is a term used to distinguish them from the Turkish Turks, who rule the roost.

Again we call to the attention of the general council, the fact that the city is running behind with its revenue, and it is the fault of the council; because the city is paying no one to act as license inspector.

While we are cleaning up, would it not be a good idea to clean up the river front and redeem the street along the levee from Jefferson street to Kentucky avenue? Large parties of excursionists go up the Ohio and Tennessee rivers past here and back again every week, and most of them necessarily judge Paducah from her river front. We must remember the river does not run past the rear of our promises, but that Paducah fronts the river.

The Sun, always eager to get all the news, get it accurate and get it first, sends its reporters to meetings, up as to insure first hand information. Yet, we never fully appreciated the aggravation of an inaccurate account until yesterday, when we read the News-Democrat's report of the fiscal court meeting. The only true statement in the report was, by implication, that a reporter for The Sun was present. If the News-Democrat would always have a reporter at meetings, no one could bring the paper that way.

THE TARIFF SITUATION.

If the Democrats in congress would vote along the principles on which they were elected, the tariff on all necessaries of life would be equitably adjusted, and the principle of protection would not be extended to cover all commodities for the benefit of traders. It was the inability of the minority to stand together that prevented reform of the house rules.

When the Republican insurgents stood by their guns, Joe Cannon just bought up enough Democratic congressmen with committee places to win with. The Democrats have failed to caucus on the tariff in either house. The representatives state frankly that they want a high tariff on the commodities produced in their districts. Some Republicans must be expected to stand by the organization of the house and senate through thick and thin. We don't commend them, but we expect it. If the Democrats cannot be depended upon to stand by their principles in this fight, it will avail independent Republicans in the senate and house little to get in the way of the combined force of Democrat and Republican high tariff devotees.

man nature for argument, and you have a new cult, and people will nod their heads in approving assent to the truisms which the old fashioned family doctor has been telling them all their lives.

Hear a man in a pink kimono tell people that if they would arouse that

"Infinite Intelligence" within them, which we call God, and say "I will get well," they will better their physical condition. Now listen to the old family doctor, and note the difference, and say which is preaching

Christian doctrine and common sense.

The doctor comes into the sick room with a story "how'dy," and talks about anything under the sun but the patient's condition. Then he tells the family that they must make the patient cheerful and keep his mind off himself, not on himself.

If it is one of those peculiar complaints, not necessitating lying on a bed, the doctor may advise a sea voyage. Now, the doctor prescribes the sea voyage, because he knows when the ship leaves shore, the patient will realize his inability to keep in touch with his affairs and will relax, that the strange surroundings will keep his attention off himself, and that he will stay on deck in the open air. Any doctor will tell you how you can get well without the use of medicines. If you will take the time and follow directions. For instance, if you are an office worker, the doctor may tell you that you should get a job on a farm. You wouldn't do that, of course. That is the reason doctors give you medicine, and all systems of philosophy, based on atomic truth, flourish for a day and are cut down.

Now, which is the nearer Christianity, the doctor, who says take the patient's mind off himself, or the cult which says think about yourself all the time, and make your religion a specific for chilblain and cramp cure? If the philosophy, which keeps repeating "my" and "I," and directing one's attention inward, does not develop the "ego" in one, we are at a loss to comprehend it. Christianity teaches altruism; Christianity teaches us to forget ourselves and lose our lives in sacrifice for others, not to think of ourselves continually.

Give us the old fashioned religion and the family doctor. They both seem to meet the defects in human nature, which has not changed a particle since the days of Adam. All the people we ever knew that tried to think themselves into demi-gods, thought themselves into the madhouse.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Editor Evening Sun:

In your issue of Saturday, "Spectator" gives expression to his opinion of the integrity and intelligence of the members of the late Commercial club. He thinks that the directors and active members of that club were actuated principally, by motives of individual gain and his ignorance, enviousness and malice are all apparent in what he says. I venture the opinion, that he never contributed a dollar in aid of any of the work the Commercial club undertook.

I doubt if he ever attended a meeting and if he did, he was of the

with all anonymous letter writers and in behalf of a large number of the best citizens of Paducah, but without their request, I denounce his insinuations about club members as being absolutely unjustifiable.

The Woman's club is an organization of whom all good citizens are proud, yet, I doubt if "Spectator" ever contributed a dollar for its support, while but for the factors in the late Commercial club, there would have been no Woman's club as at present organized. Very truly yours,

W. F. PAXTON.

FIRE

DAMAGES SEVERAL SMALL

HOUSES THIS MORNING.

Fire Department has Hard Fight to Save Row of Residences in City.

Five houses of the "gunbarrel" variety were destroyed partially by fire this morning about 2 o'clock by a blaze that originated in the home of Palmer, colored, 1507 Clay street.

The fire started from an exploding oil lamp, and the fire spread to all parts of the house. Those company,

No. 3, and truck company, No. 4, answered an alarm, and with two streams subdued the blaze although the wind was blowing.

The Palmer house was burned so that the walls caved in the rear, and the roofs of three other houses were burned off, and part of the roof of the 1th house. The houses are built close together and it was easy for the flames to leap from roof to roof.

Then the wind aided as the sparks were carried two squares and set fire to roofs, but the fire was extinguished without loss by the owners.

All of the household goods in the Palmer house were destroyed and the occupants had a narrow escape as they did not know the house was on fire until the walls crashed in. The loss will amount to about $1,000.

Their fragrant bouquet is very grateful to the nostrils of the discriminating smoker—not that bouquet cannot possibly be preserved without the utmost care in storing them. That's why we went to the expense of installing a modern electric humidifier which keeps the cigar at the proper temperature at all times and with just the right degree of moistness in the atmosphere.

That's why our cigar stand is so popular, too. Best brands at all prices.

A CRACKER FARMER

You Can Interpret the Word "Cracker" in Two Ways.

The best farmer that I have ever seen in Florida is a Cracker, says a writer in Outing. With all the peculiarities of his class he is a careful observer and quick to apply what lessons he learns.
This man runs a milk route, manages several large orange groves and does a good deal of truck gardening in the bargain. His judgment is inquisitive but quick and decisive, and his speech is something of the same sort. Roused from their apathy the Crackers make a sort of a Southern Yankee.
With this exception the most enterprising native that I have ever discovered is a coal black African. He is highly respected by all classes, for his forceful and prompt and every way executive tact. Our lakes constitute sounding boards and you can hear this fellow half a mile away talking to his mules as he ploughs, alternately singing a negro melody.
Just at this moment I hear him about: "Yop old fool mule! Can't you see youse all wrong there? I sure is ashamed of any mule that can't run a straight furrow!" Then another melody rises over the water, followed and interlarded with more oburgations.

Not The Right Boy

Word was received from Hopkinsville today that James Bates, the boy who was decoyed away from Birmingham, Ala., was being held there; but it was discovered, when an effort was made to identify him, that the right boy had not been found. The boy was not on the houseboat near Order's Landing.

Kerosene.
"Kerosene" seems to have been first used in United States patent No. 12,612, of March 17, 1885, granted to Abraham Gesner, of Williamsburg, N. Y., and assigned to the North American Kerosene Gas Light company. In the preamble to his specifications Gesner states that he has "invented and discovered a new and useful manufacture or composition of matter, being a new liquid hydrocarbon which I denominate 'kerosene.' " "Coal oil" was the term in general use before "kerosene" was invented.

Mary Elizabeth Gourleux.
Mary Elizabeth, the three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Gourleux, of 1201 Jackson street, died yesterday morning of pneumonia. Mr. Gourleux is foreman of the car department of the Illinois Central shops. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales church. The burial was at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

D. A. R. Gospel.

The National Congress Daughters of the American Revolution, in session in Washington this week, promises to be probably the most brilliant convention the Daughters have yet held, says an exchange, and already Washington is filled with charming and brilliant women, gathered from over the entire United States, to participate in the entertainments and the important work of electing a new president general to fill the office made vacant by the retirement of Mrs. Donald McLean. Sunday a number of important committee meetings were held and in the afternoon at 5 o'clock Vice President Sherman and Mrs. Sherman entertained at the New Willard in honor of Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York, one of the popular candidates for the office of president general.
On Monday evening the Illinois chapter will give a banquet at the New Willard in honor of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Bloomington, Ill., one of the candidates for president general. The election of Mrs. Scott is being urged by the six oldest chapters of the organization, who have sent out a card recommending it, and this is, indeed, high compliment. The chapters are the New York city chapter, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Chicago chapters, and the John Marshall chapter, of Louisville. Mrs. Scott is a Kentuckian by birth, but is now living in Illinois.

On Monday morning the dedication of Continental hall will take place and this will be a most interesting ceremony, in which the Kentucky chapters are particularly interested. The charter members of the organization have been invited to act as an escort to Mrs. McLean and will be seated on the platform with her. They are the 1,000 first members, from over the United States, the organization now numbering over 6,700 members. On Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the John Marshall chapter, of Louisville will dedicate one of the boxes in Continental hall, which they have purchased. Mrs. Ira Sayre Barnett was chairman of this committee, which selected a bronze tablet, on which is a wreath of laurel leaves. In the wreath of laurel leaves is the following inscription: "In Memory of the Ancestors of the John Marshall Chapter No. 4." The presentation speech will be made by Mrs. D. B. Sperry, regent of the chapter.

The page to the congress will be given a charming souvenir at the end of the week, being a silver spoon bearing the insignia of the society. The pages from Kentucky are Miss Sarah Chennault, of Lexington; Misses Rebecca and Nancy Johnson, of Bardonia; Miss Mary Hoggsett, of Paducah; and Miss Amy Green, of Louisville.

REDUCE TABLE EXPENSE.

Easy to say. Yes, and easy to do. Not merely reduce expense by stinting the table, but actually add to mental enjoyment and the family health, at the same time making grocers' and butchers' bills dwindle away.
The secret is Faust Brand Spaghetti, an appetizing food, nourishing and strengthening as meat. A food you can prepare in a great variety of ways, and that costs so little that the price seems almost ridiculous in the face of the wonderful adaptability, food value, and always-welcome goodness. Get a package today and try this recipe:
Fast Spaghetti Patties.—Four cups Faust Spaghetti, one pint sherry, two lemons, one-half pint milk, six eggs, one-half pound Sultana raisins, one-half pound sugar, one-half ounce allspice. ## Rule of the Sea.

That etiquette is observed among the fishermen that journey to the Fishing Banks was discovered by an amateur angler his first trip the other day.

The amateur hooked a codfish, but his line parted just as the fish was above the water. Back fell the rodfish, carrying with him two sinkers and the hook.

Twenty minutes later another angler cried out that he had captured a cod with two sinkers and a hook. The amateur went up to the angler, who appeared to be an old salt, and asked for his hook and sinkers, which had his name stamped on them. He was surprised when the old salt told him to take the fish also.

According to the rules generally followed on the fishing boats the second angler was entitled to the fish, but the hook and sinkers should be returned to their owner. The old angler explained why he wanted to give up the fish.

It seems that he had followed the sea a great part of his life. When a young man he was a whaler, and according to whaling law a dead whale belongs to the ship whose name appears on the harpoon that killed it. Therefore the old salt figured that the amateur owned the codfish he had taken.

The Self-Sacrificing Son.

Arthur, aged 4, and Louise, aged 2 1/2, were disputing over a string which Louise clung to. All threats and force on Arthur's part were useless; she would not give up. After a moment he used guile.

"Wees," he said, "will you be my little wife?"

"Ess," she coyly answered.

"Then give me the string," he commanded.

And she gave it without a murmur.—Lippincott's.

Jeffrey Burland, Montreal; Henry Vankleeck, Denver; Joseph Shippen, Seattle, and a number of editors including Lyman Abbott of The Outlook, John A. Schleicher of Leslie's Weekly, Albert E. Hoyt of the Albany Argus and M. H. Hoover of Lockport Union Sun.

Special sessions will be given to educators and business men, and more than fifty business organizations in the larger cities will send delegates.

A World Court of Justice. That the submission to arbitration of the vexing Newfoundland fisheries dispute between this country and England has done much to revive interest in the Hague tribunal.

Romance of a Tablespoon and Its Moral.

They're going to be married very soon, And that is why they need a tablespoon, But when they're wedded they will need a sat, And many other things they'll have to get. They'll buy their spoons and likewise forks and knives From stores that ADVERTISE to please young wives.

there can be no doubt. Before this case can come up, however, the Tribunal will meet on May 1, to try the Casa Blanca case between France and Germany, while other cases are reported to be pending in the shape of several American claims against Venezuela for which President Gomez has granted the arbitration.

Doubtless a successful settlement of these questions will hasten the establishment of the court of arbitral justice proposed by the Hague conference of 1907—a court made up of salaried judges, holding regular sessions. It will be remembered that the Hague conference, failing to agree on an allotment of judges, drew up a complete code of procedure, and provided that any number of nations may establish the court for themselves by simply naming judges, other nations being free to join in like manner. The court is not to supplant but to supplement the present Hague tribunal. Mr.

Root has freely expressed his belief that the court can be put in operation before the third Hague conference, and Secretary Knox is reported to be favorable to the project. The recent record of the United States in arbitration may well encourage hope that the initiative may come from the United States—an event greatly to be desired.

Obligatory Arbitration. Mr. Root retired from the office of secretary of state with two score treaties of arbitration to his credit—an achievement of which any statesman might be proud. These treaties raised the number of similar pacts between different nations to about eighty, by which practically every nation of importance contracts to submit to arbitration disputes not involving its national honor. Sweeping as is the exception, the value of the treaties is great. Obligatory arbitration in certain classes of cases is directly recognized; and as the machinery of arbitration is improved, "national honor" will become less and less inclusive. The Hague tribunal is growing in influence. And the plans for a proposed court of arbitral justice await only the initiative of a few nations in appointing judges. Increased confidence in such agencies is almost sure to follow in proportion to their use.

And it is worth to remember that the Porter proposition adopted by the Hague conference of 1907, agreeing that force shall not be used to collect contract debts without an offer of arbitration is nothing less than universal arbitration of one class of cases.

Lake Mohonk Conference. The fifteenth annual Lake Mohonk conference on International arbitration which meets on the invitation of Mr. Albert K. Smiley, May 19-21, puts forth a strong program. The presence at Lake Mohonk year after year of many of the eminent men of this and other nations exerts a very considerable influence for world peace.

Whether the conference is, as the more radical peace advocates assert, "hiding its light under a bushel," in sticking to the subject of international arbitration and declining to meddle with the question of national armament, it succeeds in uniting its support of an essential branch of the peace movement may influence men whom the general peace societies cannot attract. And it may be better, after all, to lift all classes an inch than to elevate a few of them to a much greater height.

Armaments. Why this paradox of peace and armaments? The civilized world is at peace and never before were the peace societies so numerous or so active. Yet never, perhaps, has there been so great a race for immense armaments. Does it mean that our people are indifferent to sentiment or unmoved by the dollars and cents argument against naval expansion? Or do they demand armaments because they feel that no reliable substitute can yet be offered?

On the other hand are many peace societies denouncing the wickedness and folly and extravagance of more battleships and urging the United States to set an example by reducing its navy. On the other stands Richard Pearson Hobson with his "Practical Peace League" vehemently demanding an ever larger navy as a guarantee of peace. While midway between the two, the Interparliamentary Union and the Lake Mohonk conference are inclined to treat the subject as secondary, regarding armaments as results, rather than causes, and seeking to perfect the machinery of arbitration until it shall gradually displace most wars and atrophy excessive armament by making it unnecessary.

Just where lies the truth is difficult to say. Doubtless future Hague conferences will find some means of checking somewhat, by mutual agreement of all nations, the impoverishing increases of armament. But the work will be slow. Meanwhile some discussion of the subject will hasten its solution. But radical exhortations concerning purely national armaments either of the Hobson or anti-Hobson type, is more likely to defeat than to accomplish anything of lasting value.

For Vague Pains

and other pains, all over a woman's body, are often caused by some, not well understood, female disease.

No one can tell just where female trouble will affect you. It acts in a different way on different people. Hence, treating the symptoms gives but little benefit, and the most successful method may be said to be the treatment of the cause—which you may do, by taking Cardui.

What Cardui has done for other women, it ought surely to do for you. Mrs. M. E. Allred, of Hartford, Wash., writes: "Ever since I was 16 years old, I have suffered from female troubles. I had headache, backache and other troubles, every month. Some two years ago, I began to use Cardui, and since then I have had no backache, my other troubles have stopped, I don't need any medicine, and I am well."

Ancient Luxury in Rome.

According to Guillelmo Ferrero, the Italian historian, the luxury of Rome, which older historians tell us was that once effulgent nation to decay, could not be compared to the luxury to be found in the modern city. The eating places of old Rome were dingy compared with the modern New York restaurant, and Roman waste and profusion were regarded as necessary evils. The richest Roman missed many of the luxuries of modern times now regarded almost as necessities. He had no electric lights, not even kerosene or gas. There were no automobiles or steam yachts. But the ancient Roman managed to eat too much, and drink too much and loaf too much, which are the real dangers of luxury. The trimmings and the settings are less important. It is these old vices which should be avoided more than extravagance of fine raiment or gold dishes, such as Rome never knew. The luxury to be avoided may travel faster than it used to, or not so fast, but it is evident that it is still headed in the same direction.—Athenian Globe.

The power to comfort others does not come from consoling yourself.

Memory Studies. A small boy went into a South Boston drug store, wrinkled his face, rubbed his head and rubbed his left foot up and down his right leg in an effort to remember something that had escaped him.

"Say," he began, "will you tell me the name of the place where we Americans have so many soldiers?" "Fort Sheridan?"

"Oh, no; it's further away than that and a new place."

"The Philippines?"

"That ain't just it, but it's some where around there."

"Perhaps you mean Manila."

"Manila! That's right! I knew I would get it after a while. I want a bottle of Manila extract for flavoring. They're goin' to have ice cream!"—Boston Record.

Diagnosis. Fond Mother (to eye specialist): Doctor, one of Ralph's eyes is ever so much stronger than the other. How do you account for that? Specialist—Knot hole in the baseball fence last summer, madam.—Cleveland Magazine.

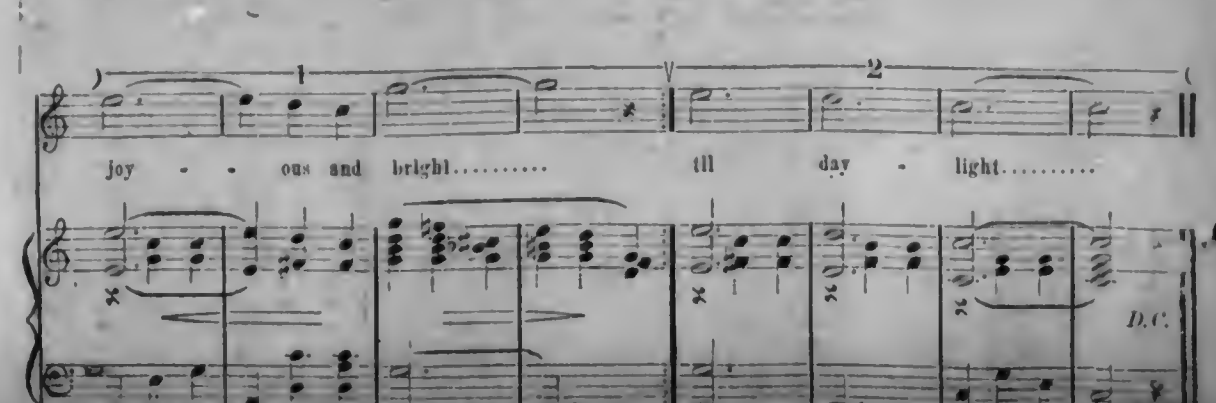

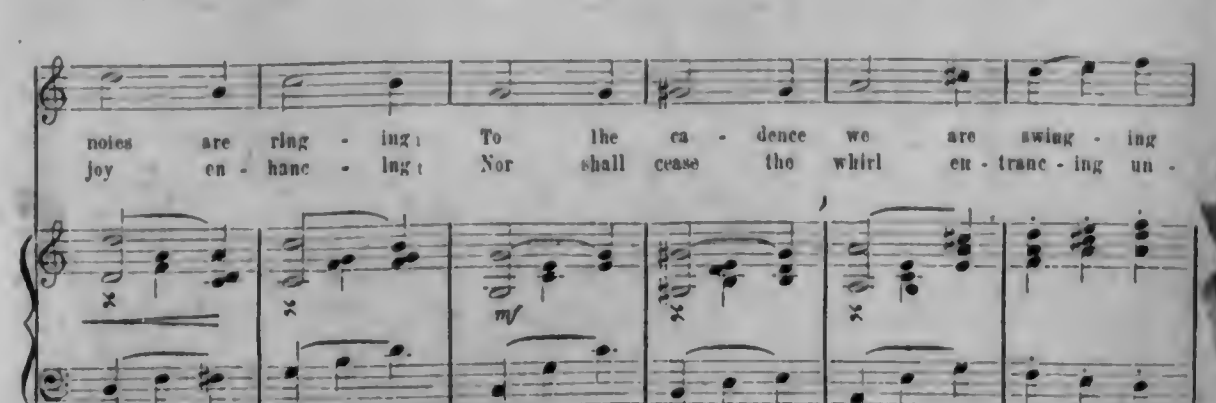

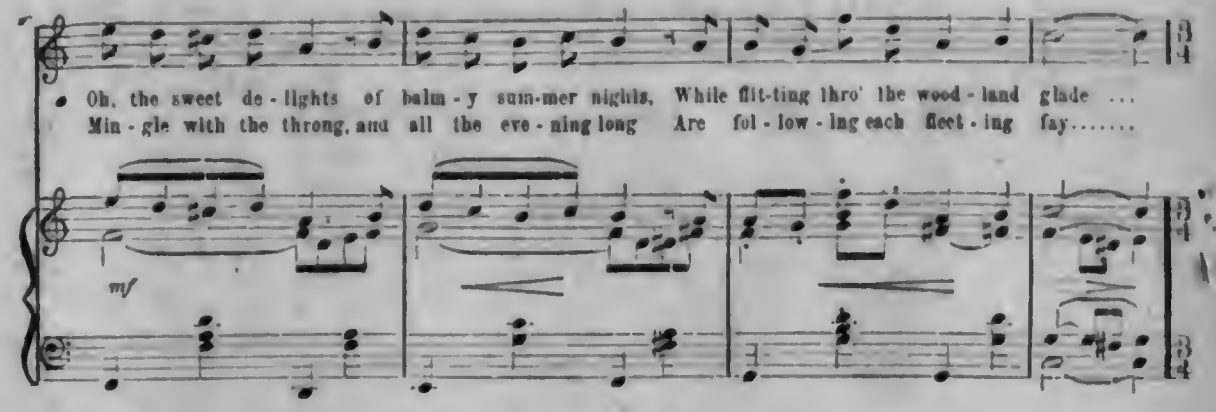

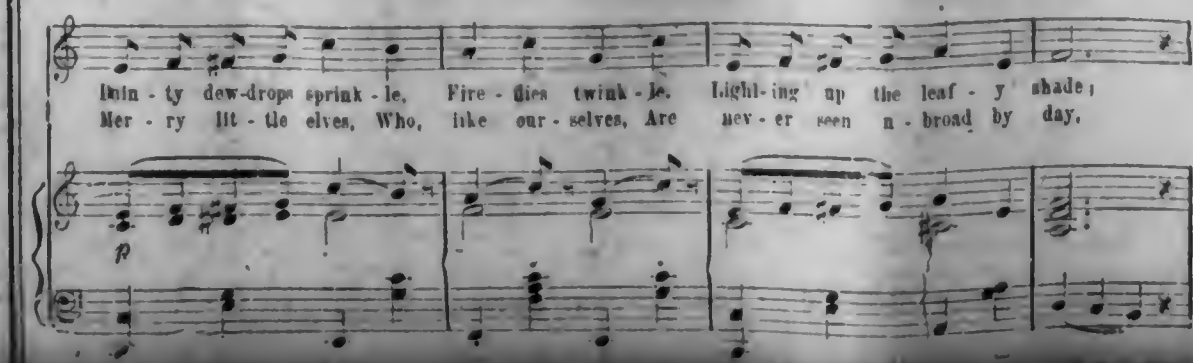

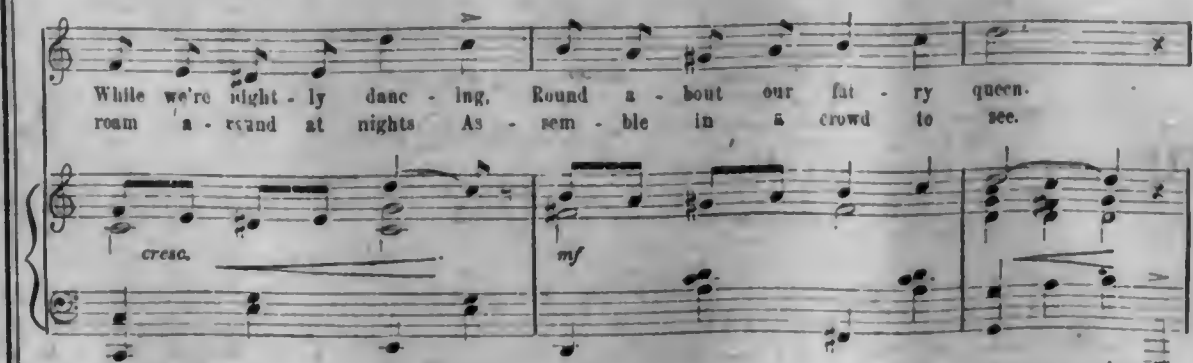

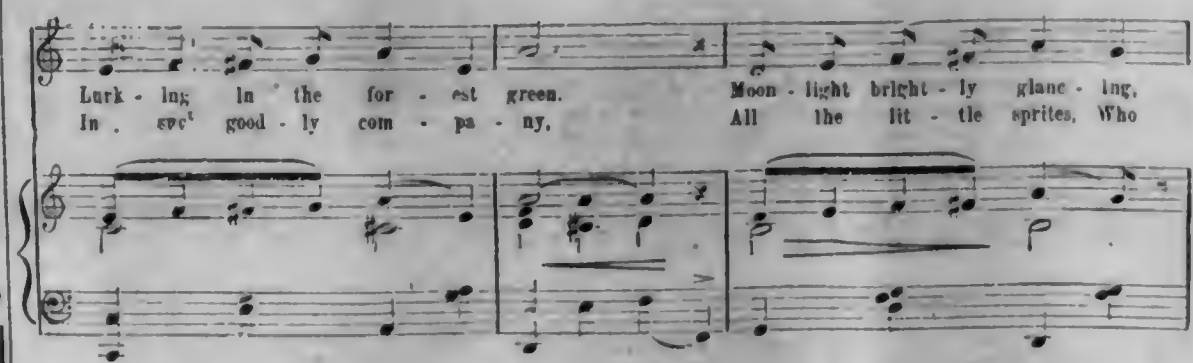

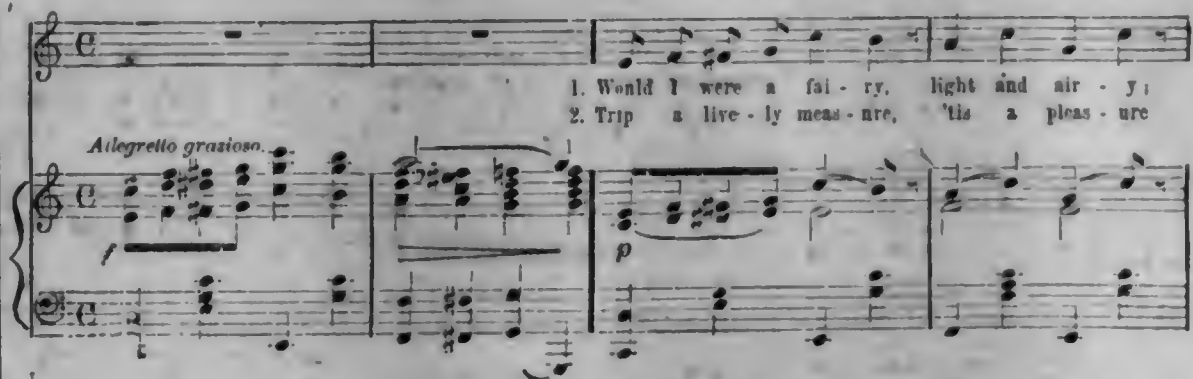

"What are you doing here?" said the woman to the tramp who had gone over the wall just in time to escape the building.

"Madam," replied the dignified vagrant, "I did intend to request something to eat; but all I ask now is that, in the interests of humanity, you'll feed that canine."—London Globe.

CHAPTER III.
WITHOUT BENEFIT OF CLERGY.

WHEN the steamer had gone Napoleon Doret went to look for Necla and found her playing with the younger Gales, who revealed in the gifts he had brought. Never had there been such gorgeous presents for little folk. The elder girl laughed gladly as Napoleon entered, though her eyes were wet with the pity of it.

"You seem to bring sunshine wherever you go," she said. "They have never had things to play with like other children, and it makes us cry to watch them."

"Ho, ho," he chuckled. "I ain't no time for crying, ha gosh! I guess you don't have so much present when you was lit' gal you're, what? Maybe you think I forgot you. Well, I didn't."

He began to undo the fastenings of a parcel he carried in his arms.

"Don't you dare open it!" cried Necla. "Why, that's half the fun."

She was a child herself now, her face flushed and her hands a-tremble. Taking the package to the table, she hurriedly untied the knots while he stood watching her, his teeth showing white against his dark face and his eyes half shut as if dazzled by the sight of her.

"Oh, why didn't you tie more knots in it?" she breathed as she undid the last, and then, opening the wrappings slowly, she gasped in astonishment. She shook it out gently, reverently, a clinging black lace gown of Paris make. Next she opened a box and took from it a picture hat with long jet plumes, which she stroked and pressed fondly against her face. There were other garments also—a silken petticoat, silk stockings and a pair of high heeled shoes to match, with certain other delicate and dainty things which she modestly forbore to inspect before the Frenchman, who said no word, but only gazed at her, and for whom she had no eyes as yet. Finally she laid her presents aside and, turning to him, said in a hushed, awe-stricken voice:

"It's all there, everything complete! Oh, Poleon—you dear, dear Poleon!" She took his two big hands in the thumbs, as had been her custom ever since she was a child, and looked up at him, her eyes wet with emotion. But she could not keep away from the dress for long and returned to feast her eyes upon it.

"You like it, eh?" pressed Poleon, hungry for more demonstrative expression.

"Oh-oh," she sighed. "Where on earth did you get it? Why, it must have cost a fortune!"

"Wasn't it? I gambled in the big saloon. Yes, sir! I gambled good that night too. For while I play roulette, den I dance den I play some more, an' by an' by I see a new dance gal. She's Franche gal, from Montreal. Dat's de one I tol' you 'bout. Ba gar, she's swell dress' too. She's name' Marie Bourgette."

"Oh, I've heard about her," said Necla. "She owns a claim on Bonanza creek."

"Sure, she's friend's wit' Charlie McCormack, dat riche feller, but I don't know it dis tan', so I ask her for dance wit' me. Den we drink a bottle of champagne—twenty dollar."

"Mamelle! I say, 'how much you charge for sell me dat dress?'"

"For w'y shall I sell 'im? she say. 'I don't wear 'im before 'im tonight, an' I don't get no more dress lak dis for 'tousan' dollar!'"

Necla exclaimed excitedly.

"For w'y you sell 'im? I say. 'Because I'll tak' 'im down to Flimbeau for Necla Gals, wat' never had no dress lak dat in all her life.' Was, sir, dat Marie Bourgette she's hear of you before, an' your dad, too—me! dat Gals Cheechak know 'bout Old Mar Gals—she say: 'Wat' lookin' kind of gal is dis Necla? An' I tell her all 'bout you. W'en I'm through she say: 'Hut maybe your little friend is more bigger as I am. Maybe de dress won't fit.' 'Ha, you don't know me, mamelle! I say. 'I can guess de weight of a car-bon to five pound. She'll be same size lak'in' one-inch round de waist.' 'Poleon Doret,' she say, 'you ain't no Franche-man to talk lak dat. Look here! I can sell dis dress for 'tousan' dollar tonight, or I can trade 'im for got mine on El Dorado creek to some dose Swede wat want to catch a gal, but I'm sold' sell 'im to you for three hundred dollar, just wat I pay for 'im. You wait here till I come back."

"No, no, Mamelle Marie, I'll go 'long, too, for so you don't change your min', I say. An' I stan' outside her door till she pass me de whole works."

"Don't forget de little shoes, I say, an' dat's how it come."

"And you paid $300 for it?" Necla said, agitated. The Canadian shrugged.

"Only for de good heart of Marie Bourgette I pay was 'tousan'," said he. "I niss' seven hundred dollar clean profit."

"It was very nice of both of you, but I can't wear it. I've never seen a dress like it except in pictures, and I couldn't"—She saw his face fall and said impulsively:

"I'll wear it once anyhow, Poleon, just for you. Go away quick now and let me put it on."

"Dat's good," he nodded as he moved away. "I bet you mak' dose dance hall women look lak sucker."

No man may understand the girl's feelings as she set about clothing herself in her first fine dress. Time and again she had studied pictures from the "outside" showing women arrayed in the newest styles and had closed her eyes to fancy herself dressed in like manner.

Poleon's eye had been amazingly correct, for the gown fitted her neatly save at the waist, which was even more than an inch too large notwithstanding the fact that she had never worn such a corset as the well formed Marie Bourgette was accustomed to.

She pondered long and hesitated modestly when she saw its low cut, which exposed her neck and shoulders in a totally unaccustomed manner, for it struck her as a amazingly indecent until she scurried through her manglez again and saw that its construction, as compared with others, was most conservative. Even so she shrank at sight of herself below the line of sunburn, for she was flung about like a blue winged teal, the denaturation being more pronounced because of the natural whiteness of her skin. She sat down, dress and all, in the thick softness of a great brown bearskin and thought it over.

How odd it was, now that she considered it, that she needed no aid with these alien garments; that she knew instinctively their every feature; that there was no intrepidity to cause her more than an instant's trouble.

She was interrupted in her reverie by the passing of a shadow across her window and the stamp of a man's feet on the planks at the door. Of course it was Poleon, who had come back to see her. So she rose hastily, gave one quick glance at the mirror above her washstand, choosing the side that distorted her image the least, and, hearing him still stamping, perfunctorily called:

"Come in! I'll be right out."

She kinked the train into place behind her, looping the shawl carelessly about her in a way to veil her modesty effectively. She crossed proudly to the reading table to give him a fair view of her splendor and was in the middle of the room before she looked up. Taken aback, she uttered a little strangled cry and made a quick movement of retreat, only to check herself and stand with her chin high in the air, while wave after wave of color swept over her face.

"Great lovely dove!" ejaculated Burrell fervently, staring at her.

"Oh, I-I thought you were Poleon. He"—In spite of herself she glanced toward her room as if to flee. She writhed at the utter absurdity of her appearance and knew the lieutenant must be laughing at her. Hut slight would only make it worse. Burrell, however, was not laughing.

"I was looking for your father," he said, wondering if this glorious thing could be the quaint half breed girl of yesterday. There was nothing of the native about her now, for her lithe young figure was drawn up to its height, and her head, upon which the long black braids were coiled, was tipped back in a haughty pose. She had dug her hands out to grasp the table edge behind her, forgetful of her shawl, which drooped traitorously and

"Don't—don't take it off—ever," said Burrell. "I thought you were beautiful before because of your quaintness and simplicity, but now"—his chest swelled—"why, this is a breath from home. You're like my sister and the girls back in Kentucky, only more wonderful."

"Am I?" she cried eagerly. "Am I like other girls? Do I really look as if I'd always worn clothes like these?"

"Born to them," said he.

City Candidates Pledged Not to Buy Votes.
Calro, Ill., April 19.—The city election Tuesday promises to be one of the most remarkable in Calro's history. Every candidate before the people from mayor down to alderman has signed a pledge not to use any money illegally, nor to countenance the purchase of votes. The action is the result of the formation of the Pure Ballot League, as a reaction against the enormous expenditure of money in the primary election last August. The league has hired detectives, has had its directing board, two in each ward, commissioned as deputy sheriffs and proposes to see that a fair election is held and liberal practices stopped. W. B. Huetter, a leading shoe merchant, is president of the league, and Prof. T. C. Clendenen, superintendent of the Calro schools, is secretary, while bankers, lawyers, merchants and other business men are included in the membership.

The opposing candidates for mayor are George Parsons, the present incumbent, and Claude Winter, former mayor, who was defeated by Parsons four years ago.

"And did you enjoy your African trip, Major? How do you like the savages?"

"Oh, they were extremely kind-hearted! They wanted to keep me there for dinner."—London Opinion.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N. J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N. J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

TOBACCO NEWS

Louisville, Ky., April 19.—Total offerings this week were 1,688 hogheads. Of this number 106 were new burley, 30 old burley, 921 new dark and 31 old dark. There were only 106 hogheads of new burley offered, quality was poor, showing but little color, and the condition was very bad. The market for common grades of red burley was fully 1/2 cent lower, medium and good red leaf were easier, color smokers and strippers were firm. There was a fair demand for good old burley when sound and sweet. Prices for common and medium grades were from 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower; unsound and funky tobaccos were neglected.

There were 603 hogheads of new dark offered at auction, quality of the air-cured leaf was only fair, as a large percentage was common, re-handling styles in bad order. Manufacturing leaf, when sound, was firm; long re-handling leaf was irregular, short common leaf was 1/4 cent higher, trash and common lugs were easier; medium and good lugs, when suitable for burley substitutes, were in better demand; prices were a few bids higher. The quality of the fired or export leaf was poor, and condition was very objectionable, as there was more soft and fermented tobacco offered than at any time this year; prices for all grades of unsound leaf were lower; leaf in good condition was firm. Trash and common lugs in soft order were lower; the better grades of lugs in good condition were in fair demand at unchanged prices. No old dark offered.

The reported private sales consisted largely of Upper Cumberland and air-cured leaf, sampled but not sold; a few hogheads of old dark and a few hogheads of old Green river sold at various parties.

This weather is all that can be desired for farm work.

House Was in Three States.

Montana is believed to possess three brothers with a history more remarkable than has heretofore been known. The story is vouched for by Col. Thomas C. Marshall, of Missoula, National Republican committeeman for Montana.

"I believe," said Col. Marshall, "that the history of the brothers stands unprecedented in the annals of American history. That they should be born in the same house, and at the same time each born in a different state, seems incredible, and all the more so when on its original site."

"These brothers are named Wright, and are now residents of Missoula county, Montana. When the eldest of these brothers was born that particular section of the county was in Oregon, as a portion of the Louisiana purchase.

"Several years later a second boy was born to the Wright family, but in the meantime Idaho had been segregated from the original territory, and therefore he was a native of Idaho, and his elder brother was an Oregonian.

"Again a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wright, but he was neither an Oregonian and Idahoan, but a Montanan, the treasure state having been sliced from Idaho in the meantime. Thus three brothers were born in the same house and each in a different state.

"They are getting along in years, but the house still stands and is still occupied by the Wright family,"—Helen (Mont.) Cor. St. Paul Dispatch.

Not a Good Speaker.

Shortly after his rise to the bench Judge Coleman, of San Francisco, had occasion to pronounce a life sentence upon a notorious offender. In the course of his remarks the judge spoke with so much feeling and eloquence that many of the listeners were deeply affected. The prisoner, on the other hand, seemed to be quite indifferent, looking at the ceiling and apparently giving no attention whatever to what was being said. After he had been remanded to jail one of the young lawyers had gone into the cell, curious to know how the criminal had felt when his honor was passing sentence upon him.

"What do you mean?" asked the convicted one. "I mean when the judge was telling you you must go to prison for life." "You mean when he was talking to me?" "Yes." "Oh, I never paid no attention to Dick Coleman; he ain't no public speaker no-how!"

Methuselah was in a reminiscent mood.

"Well, I can honestly say," he remarked, "that I never ascribed my longevity to abstinence from tobacco!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

During the coming financial year (July 1 to June 30) London will expend $19,990,825 for elementary and $4,725,610 for higher education, a total of $24,716,435.

TREASURE IN THE BANK IS SAVED

Illinois Woman Exchanged Fifteen Shots With Robber.

Explosion Awoke Her and She Opened Fire on Man Left on Guard—Robbers Made Away

WITH THE SILVER, HOWEVER.

Panama, Ill., April 19.—Attired only in her night gown and grasping a revolver in her right hand, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell exchanged fifteen shots with a bank robber at 3 o'clock this morning, while the marauder, with two pistols, was keeping a steady fire through her bedroom window, where she stood concealed.

The heroic act on the part of Mrs. Mitchell saved the bank of Panama $8,000 in paper money.

Three robbers had entered the front of the bank and applied nitroglycerine to the outer compartment of the vault.

The explosion awakened Mrs. Mitchell, who went to her window and saw the outside man left as a lookout by the burglars.

She returned to her bureau, taking out her revolver and a box of cartridges, and, concealing herself behind the lace curtains, opened fire on the lookout without opening the window.

Mrs. Mitchell quickly loaded her revolver and, moving quickly about, so that the flashes from her revolver would not betray her exact location, kept up the fire.

The duel soon awakened the entire town, but the robbers escaped with $700 in silver which had been placed in the outside compartment of the bank safe.

The inner safe, which contained $8,000 in paper money, had been untouched through the early defense assumed by Mrs. Mitchell.

Lighting Plant Contract Let.

The board of public works Saturday afternoon recommended to the general council that the bid of the Babcock-Wilcox company, of Pittsburgh, for furnishing a boiler for the city light plant company be accepted. The bid of James Jewell & Son, of Cincinnati, for the erection of the brick stack at the plant, was recommended. If the general council indorses the bids the two firms will get the contracts. The council appropriated $3,000 for the improvements, but to equip the plant properly the expense will be $1,100 additional.

Paducah	23.5	0.7	fall

River stage at 7 o'clock this morning, 23.5, a fall of .7 since yesterday morning and a fall of 1.5 since Saturday morning. Rainfall last night was .20 of an inch. The Ohio at this place will continue to fall.

ARRIVALS—City of Saltville from Waterloo, Ala., yesterday morning with a large cargo of freight and a number of passengers for St. Louis. Joe Fowler from Evansville and all way landings yesterday morning doing a good business. She received freight this morning at the wharfboat. Peters Lee from Memphis Saturday night with a lot of freight and passengers for the upper Ohio. Clyde from Waterloo, Ala., today with several cars of lumber for the lower Ohio. Pavonia from the Cumberland today with a tow of several barges of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tle company. Duquesne from the upper Ohio yesterday morning with a big tow of coal for the lower Mississippi. Joe B. Williams from New Orleans Sunday morning with a large tow of empty coal boats and barges. Dick Fowler from Cairo and all way landings tonight at 8 o'clock. Sprague from New Orleans Saturday evening with a big tow of empty coal boats. J. B. Pinley from Louisville yesterday morning with a tow of 35 loaded coal boats and barges. Royal from Golconda on time this morning doing a good freight and passenger business. Lyda from the Tennessee yesterday with a tow of several barges of ties from Joppa. B. A. Volght from Dyersburg Saturday evening with two barges heavily loaded with big cypress logs to be sawed into large timber for the West Kentucky Coal company. George Cowling from Metropolis this morning and this afternoon on her two regular trips doing a good business.

DEPARTURES—Dick Fowler for Cairo and all way landings this morning at 8 o'clock with a large freight and passenger list. Joe Fowler for Evansville and way landings at 11 o'clock this morning doing a fine business. City of Saltville for St. Louis yesterday morning. Peters Lee for Cincinnati and way landings Saturday night. Sprague for Louisville Saturday night with empty. Joe B. Williams from Louisville yesterday morning with empty. Duquesne and J. B. Pinley for New Orleans yesterday with big tows of coal. Margaret for Evansville yesterday after a tow of cross ties for the Ayer & Lord Tle company. Lyda for Joppa with a tow of Tennessee river ties. Royal for Golconda this afternoon at 2 o'clock with a lot of freight and a number of passengers. George Cowling for Metropolis this morning at 11 o'clock and this afternoon at 4:30 doing a good business on both trips. Clyde for the lower Ohio this evening to unload and receive freight. She will return to the Tennessee Wednesday night.

The John S. Hopkins will be the Evansville packet tomorrow morning. The H. W. Buttorff will be in from Nashville and way landings tomorrow afternoon and return at 6 o'clock in the evening. On the trip of the Buttorff Saturday evening there were 30 round-trip passengers from Nashville among whom were James R. Love, manager of the St. Bernard Mining company, of Nashville, and family. A band of 60 gypsies, with 25 horses and 8 wagons were turned loose in this city off the Buttorff. The gypsies passengers rate 1W Co. 123456 6 came here from Clarksville. The passenger rate on the Buttorff has been cut to compete with the Tyner line, the J. B. Richardson. The low rate has been the means of making passenger travel on the Cumberland very large. The J. B. Richardson will be in from Nashville and way landings tomorrow afternoon and return at 6 o'clock. The J. B. has been doing a heavy freight business out of this port. Both the Cumberland river packets are fighting hard, but it seems that business is good enough to permit both boats to work the Cumberland.

The Dick Fowler carried about 200 excursionists to Golconda yesterday and returned last evening at 6:30 o'clock. There was a good band aboard and the trip was most enjoyable to all the excursionists. The Fowler will continue to make Sunday excursions out of this port.

The George Cowling carried several hundred excursionists between Metropolis and this city yesterday on three round trips from Metropolis. The Harper is expected today from the mines at Caseyville with a tow of coal for the West Kentucky Coal company and on her arrival the Harvester will make up a big tow of coal and leave for New Orleans. The trip of the Harvester will be the first shipment of West Kentucky coal to New Orleans by river.

The Lyda came in port today from Joppa and will tie up for several days. The American will get away the latter part of this week for the Tennessee after a tow of ties for Calo. She is now having some light repair work done.

The Pavonia will return to the Cumberland tomorrow after a tow of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tle company.

The new gasoline boat "Thistle," was given a try out yesterday and it is thought by the owners that the "Thistle" will prove to be one of the fastest pleasure crafts in the local harbor.

Capt. Young Taylor of the Paducah Dry Dock, completed his new country home four miles out on the Hinkleyville road. Captain Taylor will move into his home in about two weeks. The house is so arranged that it can be thrown open on all sides, and it has six large rooms, 104 feet of porch front, and a large hall running the full length of the house.

THREE BOYS

RAN AWAY FROM HOME AND CAME TO PADUCAH.

Police Asked to Look for Youths Whom Spring Lured From Their Parents.

The police are on the lookout for two boys who ran away from home, and are supposed to be in Paducah. Mrs. T. C. Cassel, 611 Hickory street St. Louis, wrote to the police that her son, Louis Cassel, 16 years old, in company with Clyde Baker, 17 years old, formerly of Paducah, had run away from home. Cassel is described as weighing 104 pounds, 5 feet 2 inches high, fair complexion full face with Jewish nose, and light hair.

Clarence Holt, 16 years old, of DuQuoin, Ill., another missing chap, who, according to his father, E. F. Ford, left home and started for Paducah. He is supposed to have left with the intention of going to the home of B. Wheelers, 1031 Clark street but the police have been unable to find the lad. Holt wore a blue suit, tan shoes, and wore a cap.

The Evening Sun—10c a Week.

GETS ONLY $250

JURY GIVES SMALL DAMAGES IN HENDERSON CASE.

Judge Cochran's Instructions Had Little Effect—Noted Night Rider Sult Decided.

Covington, Ky., April 19.—W. S.
Henderson, of Augusta, Ky., was awarded a verdict of $250 by the jury in Judge Cochran's court. He sued for $25,000, naming 26 defendants, whom he claimed assaulted him in a night rider raid in Bracken county.
The case went to the jury shortly before noon and the verdict was reached after three hours' deliberation.

The judge's charge occupied 60 minutes of time and was so complete and lucid a review of the evidence as to surprise even the attorneys in the case. In defining personal liberty, Judge Cochran said in part:

"The men who were formed into a party which, called on the various buyers, including Henderson, and made them sign an agreement were acting under a sense of economic wrong. A show of force is in itself an assault. A man has the right to sell his tobacco to any person he chooses and may buy from any person he wishes, provided that person is willing to sell."

The judge told the jury that there could be no doubt in the mind of any reasonable man who had heard the evidence of the guilt of the defendants and all to be decided was the amount of Henderson's loss.

It is asserted that Henderson's attorneys will ask a new trial. The alleged assault on Henderson occurred December 30, 1907, and he immediately thereafter moved to Cincinnati. Previously, on December 4, he had been visited by riders and for this visit has a $10,000 suit pending which will be tried at the next term of court. He alleges that there were about 200 men in the last crowd that visited him.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—Miss Maude R. Hames, beautiful Atlanta girl, has been made the victim of letters from the "black hand," in which she is threatened with abduction. So alarmed is she, as well as other members of the family, that the house is being guarded by detectives and every possible precaution against the carrying out of the threats is being taken.

GET MRS. CARMAK'S PETITION.

Representative Austin Hands It to President's Secretary.

Washington, April 19.—Representative Austin, of Tennessee, presented to Secretary Carpenter at the white house the petition asking for the appointment of Mrs. Edward Carmack as postmistress at Columbia.
Mr. Austin intended to deliver the petition to the president, but was prevented from doing so by a cabinet meeting. Senator Taylor did not sign the petition, but he is making a personal appeal to the president for Mrs. Carmack's appointment.

The report that Mrs. Carmack and the president had discussed her appointment over the long distance telephone was denied by Secretary Carpenter, who said that the president had not communicated with Mrs. Carmack in regard to the Columbia postoffice or any other subject.

A Ready-Made Verdict.

Fargo, North Dakota, once boasted a composite postmaster and coroner.
He was called one day to give his verdict upon the case of a stranger who had been the victim of a fit on the main street. As the man was known to nobody, he was hurried to the much-prized new "city hospital." There the case diagnosed as appendicitis, but when the operation took place the attending surgeon discovered that the patient had been previously relieved of his appendix. The doctor endeavored to retrace his steps but the strange man died from the effects of the operation. The postmaster-coroner, in rendering his verdict, filled in the space after "Cause of Death," with a rubber stamp which read: "Opened by Mistake."—Success Magazine.

Judge—Is that your real name?
Prisoner (who has been up before)— No, yer honor, it's my "pen" name.

ARTHUR CHILES

DROWNED WHILE FISHING IN PERKINS CREEK.

Son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. W.
Chiles Victim of Hopeless Disease.

While fishing in Perkins Creek on Friday afternoon, Arthur Chiles, son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles, of the Rescue Mission, was drowned.
Friday afternoon. The boy was subject to epilepsy, and toppled out of the skiff into the water and was unable to assist himself. He was visiting his uncle, F. M. Chiles, at Maxon Mills. The news of his death did not reach Paducah until Saturday night, following the finding of his body early Saturday night.

He was said to have the longest name of any boy in the world. His name in full was: Arthur Hugh Thomas T. DeWitt Talmage Hardin Eddy Lane Ariand Linnie Marion Branch Sam Jones Pigg Reuben Walker Chiles. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at Mt.
Pleasant church with burial in Bald Knob cemetery.

FISHING CAUGHT BY HAND.

Truthful Fisherman Who Swam After That Would Not Bite.

Brother Walton, of the "Printer," is like his renowned predecessor, Isaac, an adept fisherman, and whenever the weather is fine and he can get a day off he goes fishing.

Now this modern Walton, unlike some other fishermen when they have had bad luck in their piscatorial excursions, will not, as about his exploits and buy a bunch of fish to huck up his prevarication when he gets home, but always tells the truth, and thereupon hangs this tale of an expedition made by the good brother and a friend of his on the Potomac river, not far from the Chain bridge.

It was a fine morning in the closing days of last spring that our man from the G. P. O. felt the fishing fever getting possession of him. So he suggested to a friend in the same office that they take a holiday and spend it in capturing a few black bass, white perch and other denizens of the river on the Virginia side. That sounded good to his friend, and they made preparations accordingly. Hooks, lines and bait were procured, with other material necessary to a well-equipped fisherman's outfit, and they started forth.

They anchored their boat near a little inlet and threw their lines.
There were fish there in abundance, for in the cool, clear water they could be seen swimming along, but either they were not hungry or else they did not see the tempting bait, for they did not bite. There was not even a sibble.

Suddenly the fishermen heard a loud splashing in the little inlet nearby. "There's plenty of fish in there," said Brother Walton, "and I'm going to have some of them if I have to swim after them." The fishermen had a brief conference and determined to try the experiment of swimming into the inlet. So they doffed their garments and into the river they plunged. They found the water of an icy coldness, but it was not in their souls to give heed to a little matter like that. They were after fish and determined to catch some.

After some minutes they met with success. Each one of the fishermen was rewarded, for each had caught in his hand one miserable little herring, such as one could buy at any fish stand in Center Market for 10 cents a dozen. All the pretty shiners they had seen gliding by them were herring, which never bite at a hook, but are caught in a net.

It is due to Brother Walton's high regard for the truth that this little episode became known to his many friends, and he acknowledges that he is somewhat richer in experience by the occurrence. He has learned enough not to mistake a Potomac herring for a black bass or a perch.— Washington Post.

Hunting By Telephone.
The rural telephone plays an important part in bird shooting in the prairie provinces of Canada. There is an abundance of geese, ducks and prairie chicken in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and the shooting is good clear up to the limits of the cities.

Let a flock of geese be sighted on its way south from the breeding grounds on the shores of Hudson Bay or up the Yukon or on its return north in the spring, and the telephone is brought into play to summon sportsmen for twenty miles around. The birds make overnight stops wherever they find water, and the gunners spend most of the night in preparation.

They dig holes deep enough to conceal a man and set decoys about thirty yards away. Experienced hunters will wait until the flock is passing and then shoot into the flock from behind.
It has been shown that shot is more effective this way than when the attack is made from the front.

The windier the day the better, for the geese fly low. Most geese are shot when flying less than forty yards from the ground.

Subbute—What? Moving again?
I thought you liked your little flat.
Cityman—So we did. But my wife has gained ten pounds and we need the room.—Chicago News.

The above property tax list for 1908, having been returned to the auditor as delinquent, will be offered or sale at the City Hall door on Monday, May 3, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m., by the City Treasurer, unless paid to him before that date.

ALEX KUKLAND,
City Auditor.
Paducah, Ky., April 18, 1909.

NOTICE.

I urgently request all persons indebted to me to make settlement before the first day of May, 1909, as I will after that date bring suit on every unpaid note and account due me. Now your account is to each of you a small matter, while the whole is to me very important. I shall deal with all alike; if you don't pay you may know that you will be sued, whatever your name or color may be.
I hate to do this, but I am forced to it in self-defense. If you have not the money and will borrow it to pay me in full by the first day of March, 1909, I will deduct 10 per cent from your account, thereby paying the interest myself. Is this not as fair as any sane man can ask?

PREFERS DEATH TO DIVORCE

Rather Than Appear in Court, Grace Caldwell Kills Self.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.— When the name of Grace Caldwell, defendant in the suit for divorce against her by Lester Caldwell, was called in the circuit court last evening she did not answer, and during a conference of her attorneys and the judge a messenger rushed in and said that rather than appear Mrs. Caldwell had killed herself. She had drunk carbolic acid. A physician who hurried to her home prevented her immediate death, and the judge has postponed hearing of the divorce case until her recovery. Members of Mrs.
Caldwell's family have informed the police that when the date of the trial was set she attempted to choke her baby to death and kill herself, and that she had insisted she never would face the court.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT
STATE OF New York } ss. Rochester, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 19th day of July, 1909
